ABOUT THE HUNT

The Wyoming Women’s Antelope Hunt was founded in 2013 by the Wyoming Women’s Foundation as an opportunity for mentoring, developing camaraderie between women and to raise funds for the Wyoming Women’s Foundation.

Hunting is a long-standing Wyoming tradition and a skill that honors our state’s cultural roots. Teaching women to hunt can help them feed their families nutritious food and fulfills WYWF’s mission of investing in economic self-sufficiency of women.

The event develops new hunters by offering scholarships and hunter education to women who may not otherwise get the opportunity to hunt, and pairs them with conservation-minded guides and experienced women hunting partners for maximum learning opportunities.

QUICK FACTS

140+ partner organizations

199+ Sisters of the Sage (alumnae)

WHAT’S INCLUDED FOR HUNTERS?

- A 2-day guided hunt, including outfitter, guide and trespass fees for mostly private land hunts with a hunting partner.
- Hunting license.
- Lodging and meals for 4 days and 3 nights.
- Hunter gear package.
- Activities to learn additional outdoor skills such as trap shooting, meat processing, cooking with game, and fly fishing—if a harvest is made before the end of the event.
- Loaner rifle, with high-quality scope, if needed.
- A coordinated event that helps hunters make connections for future hunter mentoring opportunities with their fellow hunters.
- Awards that promote ethical hunting practices developed in partnership with the Boone and Crockett Club.

WyomingWomensAntelopeHunt.org

The Wyoming Women’s Antelope Hunt raises funds and awareness for the Wyoming Women’s Foundation (WYWF), whose mission is investing in the economic self-sufficiency of women and opportunities for girls.

WYWF makes grants to nonprofits doing work to help fulfill the WYWF mission. WYWF has also funded studies to evaluate wage equity and family self-sufficiency in Wyoming. The Wyoming Women’s Foundation believes that when women and girls prosper, communities thrive.
