

About the Hunt

The Wyoming Women's Antelope Hunt was founded in 2013 by the Wyoming Women's Foundation as an opportunity for mentoring, developing camaraderie between women and to raise funds for the Wyoming Women's Foundation.

Hunting is a long-standing Wyoming tradition. Teaching women to hunt can help them feed their families nutritious food and fulfills WYWF's mission of investing in economic self-sufficiency of women.

The event develops new hunters by offering scholarships and hunter education to women who may not otherwise get the opportunity to hunt. It pairs them with conservation-minded guides and experienced women hunting partners for maximum learning opportunities.

“Everyone was so generous with their knowledge and patient with us new hunters. It blew me away! I had no idea the stewardship and conservation connection to hunting. I learned so much about ethical hunting practices and ways to be safe. This was one of the most incredible experiences of my life and I will never forget it. I'm humbled and inspired! No words can express my gratitude for the experience you curated for new hunters. World Class!”

2. Individual

Send yourself! Individuals may pay their own way. Each individual spot is $3,000. Space is limited. Contact us today to register!

3. Scholarships

About a third of our hunters attend the Wyoming Women's Antelope Hunt on scholarships each year.

What's included for hunters:

- A 2-day guided hunt, including outfitter, guide and trespass fees for mostly private land hunts with a hunting partner.
- Hunting license.
- Lodging and meals for 4 days and 3 nights.
- Hunter gear package.
- Activities to learn additional outdoor skills such as trap shooting, meat processing, cooking with game, and fly fishing—if a harvest is made before the end of the event.
- Loaner rifle, with high-quality scope, if needed.
- A coordinated event that helps hunters make connections for future hunter mentoring opportunities with their fellow hunters.
- Recognition of ethical hunting practices.

The Wyoming Women's Antelope Hunt raises funds and awareness for the Wyoming Women's Foundation (WYWF), whose mission is investing in the economic self-sufficiency of women and opportunities for girls.

WYWF makes grants to nonprofits doing work to help fulfill the WYWF mission. WYWF has also funded studies to evaluate wage equity and family self-sufficiency in Wyoming. The Wyoming Women's Foundation believes that when women and girls prosper, communities thrive.

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

“The knowledge, skills and experience I gained from this event were immeasurable. I can only hope that I can put these skills to use next year and hope to share my knowledge, skills and experience with other first time hunters. This entire event was incredible! You all should be so proud of this event and the lives it has touched and changed!”
